

Financial Intermediary Fund for Pandemic Prevention, Preparedness and Response

Governance Framework

Adopted by the Governing Board on September 8, 2022

I. INTRODUCTION

1. COVID-19 has highlighted the urgent need for collective action to augment the existing global health security financing system and to mobilize additional, dedicated resources to build health systems and strengthen capacity for pandemic prevention, preparedness, and response (PPR). Avoiding future pandemics requires investing substantially more in PPR; these investments will help avert the much larger costs that the world would incur if we were to be caught unprepared for the next global health crisis. Countries must step up domestic investments in the core pandemic PPR capacities needed to strengthen health preparedness and prevent and contain future pandemics, in accordance with the International Health Regulations (IHR 2005) and WOHAI International Standards. This must be complemented by enhanced external financing, particularly for developing countries. The joint World Bank-WHO paper on PPR financing needs and gaps¹, prepared for the G20 Joint Finance and Health Task Force, estimated that external financing amounting to an additional US$10.5 billion per year, over the next five years, is needed for investments at the country, regional and global level to strengthen the capacity of low-income countries (LICs) and middle-income countries (MICs). Pandemic PPR is a global public good. Mobilizing the needed external financing to strengthen pandemic PPR in low- and middle-income countries and regions that are the most fiscally stretched and in need of financial support is the collective responsibility of the international community.

2. Reinforcing the multiple actors that provide international financing for pandemic PPR and enhancing coordination remain critical priorities. Multilateral Development Banks (MDBs), through their core funding mechanisms, are today the largest source of external financing for pandemic PPR in developing countries. Among MDBs, the World Bank Group (WBG) has been the largest provider of PPR financing, and IDA20 includes ambitious commitments to strengthen pandemic PPR. Under the overall leadership of the World Health Organization (WHO) as the directing and coordinating authority for health within the United Nations system, its relevance to One Health, and custodian of the International Health Regulations, many other UN agencies are engaged in PPR activities. Other key actors include: global health institutions, like the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria (the Global Fund), Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance (Gavi), and the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations (CEPI), which are supported by FIFs for which the Bank serves as trustee; regional actors, like Africa Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (Africa CDC) and the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO), that have stepped in to perform critical coordinating and operational functions during COVID-19, demonstrating the value and potential of platforms in which countries have a direct stake; bilateral agencies; and philanthropic organizations.

3. At the same time, there is strong appreciation within the international community of the urgent need for a new multilateral financing mechanism dedicated to PPR financing. The absence of a dedicated financing mechanism for pandemic PPR means that spending on other immediate needs can take priority over critical PPR investments some of whose return may only materialize in the future. A new multilateral financing mechanism would help to focus and sustain much-needed high-level attention on strengthening pandemic PPR during “peace time,” complementing existing mechanisms. It could mobilize significant additional financing for pandemic PPR. With the appropriate structure and design, it could: increase country investments in pandemic PPR; promote a more coordinated approach to pandemic PPR investments; and by convening key stakeholders, serve as a platform for discussion and advocacy around strengthening pandemic PPR. A new financing mechanism must however be viewed as one part of the solution to increase financing for pandemic PPR. Efforts are needed, in parallel, to enhance the governance of the wider global health security and pandemic PPR ecosystem.

4. With broad support from the G20 and beyond, on June 30, 2022, the World Bank’s Executive Directors approved the proposal to establish a FIF for Pandemic Prevention, Preparedness and Response (henceforth referred to in this document as “the FIF” or “PPR FIF”), and World Bank support to the FIF as Secretariat, Trustee, and Implementing Entity.² To date, 19 sovereign donors and three philanthropies/foundations have announced commitments totaling over US$1.4 billion (equivalent) to the FIF. These include the United States ($450 million), European Commission ($450 million), Italy (Euros 100 million), Germany (Euros 69 million), China ($50 million), Indonesia ($50 million), Japan, Canada (CAD 50 million), United Kingdom (GBP25 million), Korea ($30 million), United Arab Emirates ($20 million), Spain ($15 million), Singapore ($10 million), India ($10 million), Australia (AUD 15 million), Norway (NOK 50 million), South Africa ($ 5 million), New Zealand (NZD 2 million), France, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation ($15 million), the Rockefeller Foundation ($15 million), and Wellcome Trust (GBP10 million).

II. OBJECTIVE

5. The objective of the FIF is to provide a dedicated stream of additional, long-term funding for critical pandemic PPR functions in IDA and IBRD countries (Eligible Countries), through investments and technical support at the national level, as well as at the regional and global levels. The FIF is expected to support and reinforce capacity building and implementation of pandemic PPR under the IHR (2005) and other internationally endorsed legal frameworks, consistent with a One Health approach. The FIF will add value, along several dimensions, for contributors, co-investors and implementing entities, in the following ways:

- First, the FIF could help bring additionality in financial resources for pandemic PPR, including through the mobilization of non-ODA resources, for example, from philanthropies. It may be noted in this context that the FIF has already mobilized funding from a philanthropy and other, similar organizations have signaled an interest in contributing.

- Second, financing from the FIF could be used to incentivize countries to invest more in pandemic PPR, including through blending of MDB resources to further increase concessionality and matching of domestic resources.
- Third, by bringing together key institutions engaged in pandemic PPR and health system financing, the FIF will help promote a more coordinated and coherent approach to pandemic PPR strengthening by linking financing with existing, country-level planning and prioritization processes, thereby strengthening alignment and complementarity of PPR and health system strengthening and reducing transactions costs for client countries. More coordinated support also creates conditions for a more systematic dialogue about domestic financing for PPR.

6. The following key principles would underpin the FIF’s design: First, it will complement the work of existing institutions that provide international financing for PPR, drawing on their comparative advantages. Second, it would be designed to catalyse funding from private, philanthropic, and bilateral sources. Third, it would serve as an integrator rather than become a new silo that only furthers fragmentation. Fourth, it would have the flexibility to work through a variety of existing institutions and adjust over time as needs and the institutional landscape evolves. Fifth, its structure would be designed to reflect inclusivity, while ensuring streamlined and efficient governance and operating arrangements. Sixth, it would operate with high standards of transparency and accountability.

III. GOVERNANCE AND ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

7. The governing and administrative bodies of the FIF are the Governing Board, the Technical Advisory Panel (TAP), the Secretariat, and the Trustee. The Implementing Entities will support implementation of FIF-financed projects and activities.

A. Governing Board

8. The Governing Board comprises decision-making members (Voting Members), non-decision-making members (Non-voting Members), and Observers.

9. Voting Seats.³ With a view to ensuring efficient decision making by the Governing Board, the total number of voting seats will be restricted to no more than 21, at all times. These comprise: nine (9) seats for sovereign Contributors representing single- and/or multi-contributor constituencies; nine (9) seats for sovereign Co-investors representing multi-country, geographical constituencies; one (1) seat for philanthropies, foundations and other not-for-profit or non-governmental organizations that are Contributors to the FIF; and two (2) seats for Civil Society and/or Community-based Organizations (CSOs), to represent a balance between contributor/co-investor geographies, and with strong operational experience in pandemic PPR. Voting seats will be allocated and held on an Interim basis until April 30, 2023. Beginning in

³ Annex 1 describes the rules and process for allocating voting seats.

May 2023, the allocation of seats for all Contributors to the FIF will be reset based on Contribution Agreements signed as of April 30, 2023, and the allocation of seats for sovereign Co-investors (countries that are eligible to receive FIF funding) and CSOs will be decided through a self-selection process. Thereafter, to ensure sustained proper functioning of the Governing Board, the Governing Board will review the allocation of its voting seats once every two (2) years, based on Contribution Agreements signed from the onset of the FIF.

10. Voting Members. Voting members of the Governing Board will consist of:

- a) Nine (9) Members, and Alternates for each Member, from sovereign Contributors, representing single- and/or multi-contributor constituencies; ⁴ such Members and their Alternates will serve for a maximum term of two years that may be renewed, as needed;
- b) Nine (9) Members, and Alternates for each Member, from sovereign Co-investors representing multi-country, geographical constituencies; such Members and their Alternates who, for example, could represent Health, Finance, or other relevant ministries, will serve for a maximum term of two years that may be renewed by one year;
- c) One (1) Member, and an Alternate, representing philanthropies, foundations and other not-for-profit or non-governmental organizations that are Contributors to the FIF; such Member and Alternate will serve for a maximum term of two years that may be renewed by one year;
- d) Two (2) Members, and an Alternate for each Member, representing CSOs, of which, one Member selected from and representing an organization headquartered in a Co-investor country, and with strong operational experience in pandemic PPR; such Members and their Alternates will serve for a maximum term of two years that may be renewed by one year.

11. Safeguarding against double-voting by any party. Any party can hold at most one voting seat or be a Member of at most one voting constituency on the Governing Board.

- b) the Chair, as principal lead of the Technical Advisory Panel (TAP), and the Vice-Chair, as reflected in the Terms of Reference for the TAP, both appointed for a term of two years;

- c) any other entity(-ies) approved by the Governing Board in accordance with the Operations Manual.

13. Observers. Observers will be appointed to facilitate Board work and implement outcomes, as needed, for the duration of the FIF. Observers will comprise:

The co-Chairs during the initial period – until May 2023 – may be reselected when the Governing Board resets in May 2023, if they remain Members and the Board at that time selects them for a two-year term. The co-Chairs will serve on the Governing Board in that capacity without the right to vote. The concerned Contributors/Co-investors represented by the Voting Members chosen as co-Chairs may appoint his/her alternate from the same country to fulfil the functions of the respective Voting Members during the meeting(s) for which the co-Chairs have been elected.

15. Roles and Responsibilities of the Governing Board. The Governing Board is the supreme governing body of the FIF. The roles and responsibilities of the Governing Board include:

- p) exercising such other functions as may be required to achieve the purposes of the FIF.

16. Decision Making. Decisions of the Governing Board will be made by consensus. For the purposes of the FIF, consensus does not necessarily imply unanimous agreement. A Voting Member may wish to record opposition or concern without blocking or record an abstention without stating a view. In the event a co-Chair or a Voting Member considers that a consensus is not possible, the co-Chairs or a Voting Member may ask for a verbal vote by all voting members present to commence the formal voting process.⁵ A decision can pass with two-thirds supermajorities among both (1) sovereign Contributors and non-sovereign Contributors and (2) co-Investors and CSOs who are present. If a decision does not pass, the co-Chairs may request the proposal be amended for further consideration or be abandoned. The Board retains the option to operate on a no objection basis for paper and electronic decisions.

B. Technical Advisory Panel

17. The Technical Advisory Panel (TAP), to be established by the Governing Board, will help ensure that the Governing Board is kept apprised of the latest knowledge and developments related to pandemic PPR, including the status of PPR capacity at country, regional and global levels, emerging lessons and priorities, and significant developments in the areas of broader PPR governance and oversight. Furthermore, the TAP will advise the Governing Board on funding priorities and critical gaps in pandemic PPR, as well as on FIF funding allocation decisions, by providing analysis and evidence-based recommendations, based on an evaluation of individual Funding Proposals submitted to the FIF through the Call for Proposals process. In this way, the TAP can support the FIF with its goal of financing projects and activities that help strengthen capacity building and implementation of PPR under IHR (2005) and other internationally endorsed legal frameworks, consistent with a One Health approach.

18. The TAP will comprise a core group of up to 20 experts, bringing a diverse range of independent technical and financial expertise relevant to FIF-supported projects and activities, on a rotational basis, with an additional pool of experts to be called for proposal review and other analysis as needed. In the selection of the TAP members, consideration shall be given to One Health principles and achieving an adequate mix of technical expertise, geographical representation, and gender balance.

19. The TAP leadership team will comprise a Chair and Vice-Chair, both proposed by the Secretariat and appointed by the Governing Board. The Chair of the TAP will be a senior executive of the WHO emergencies program or similar office at the WHO. The Vice-Chair will be a non-WHO official who can provide expertise in areas such as country contexts, with significant experience strengthening pandemic PPR under the IHR (2005) and other internationally endorsed legal frameworks, consistent with a One Health approach in co-investor countries, either from a regional health organization or directly from a potential co-investor country. The TAP Vice-Chair will lead discussions when Funding Proposals relate to the WHO as an Implementing Entity or when other actual or potential conflicts of interest arise for the TAP Chair. TAP Leadership and TAP members will be subject to the FIF's conflict of interest framework and policies as set forth in paragraph 33 of the Operations Manual.

⁵ For Decisions that are made through electronic correspondence, the Chair or a voting member may ask for a vote via electronic correspondence.

20. The FIF Secretariat, through the work of its health technical team, will be responsible for convening the TAP and supporting its work, as spelled out in paragraphs 23 and 24 below. Clear Terms of Reference defining the TAP's composition, functions of the TAP's members and of its leadership team, criteria for selection of members, and rules of procedures will be approved by the Governing Board by October 15, 2022.

Roles and Responsibilities of the TAP:

24. Within these overall roles and responsibilities of the Secretariat, the respective functions of the World Bank and WHO are as follows:

- a) The World Bank, drawing on its extensive experience in hosting FIFs, will lead and provide overall coordination of the Secretariat. Moreover, drawing on its track record in supporting countries and regional institutions on pandemic PPR, and its technical expertise in integrating pandemic PPR in health system strengthening, World Bank staff will work jointly with WHO seconded staff to prepare Calls for Proposals; screen Funding Proposals from Implementing Entities to ensure completeness and consistency with the Governing Framework and the Operations Manual; and perform other secretariat functions outlined above.

Further, they will work jointly with World Bank Secretariat staff to: prepare the Operations Manual, results framework and any amendments; develop Calls for Proposals; screen Funding Proposals submitted to the FIF and advise on whether these proposals are developed under and/or are in support of country led IHR (2005) assessment and planning processes; and prepare progress and impact reports for the Governing Board.

Although World Bank and WHO staff will bring different expertise, all staff working in the Secretariat will collaborate closely to ensure that all Secretariat functions are performed in a coordinated way.

D. Trustee

25. The IBRD serves as the Trustee for the FIF and carries out its roles and responsibilities in accordance with the World Bank's policies and procedures. ANNEX 1

ALLOCATION OF VOTING SEATS FOR SOVEREIGN CONTRIBUTORS, TREATMENT OF NEW CONTRIBUTORS AND MINIMUM THRESHOLDS

A. Voting seat allocation method for sovereign contributors:

1. The following method will be used to allocate the nine voting seats for sovereign Contributors:

- i. The aggregate, cumulative contributions⁶ of sovereign Contributors will be summed up and divided by 9 to establish the first constituency threshold for voting seats; aggregate cumulative contributions will comprise all contribution already paid to the FIF, as well as all the contributions committed through signed Contribution Agreements that will be paid ahead of the next board reshuffle. Sovereign Contributors that contribute above the threshold will be invited to form single seat constituencies (i.e., ‘n’ seats).
- ii. The residual contributions will be summed and divided by the residual number of available seats (i.e., ‘9-n’ seats) to establish a second constituency threshold; sovereign Contributors that have contributed above that threshold will be invited to form additional single seat constituencies.
- iii. The above step would be repeated to establish a third constituency threshold, and so on. At the point at which there are no remaining sovereign Contributors that have contributed above the applicable constituency threshold, all remaining Contributors with contributions below the final threshold will self-organize into multi-Contributor constituencies.⁷
- iv. The deadline for Contributors to sign their respective Contribution Agreements based on their August 2022 pledge letters (and any additional pledges between September and April) is April 30, 2023. After this, the nine seats for sovereign Contributors will be reallocated in May 2023 to reflect the dollar values of signed Contribution Agreements. After this reallocation of seat, the Governing Board will operate on a two-year cycle.

B. Treatment of new contributions during cycles:

2. New or additional contributions (including additional contributions from existing Contributors) between September 2022 and April 2023, and in the midst of subsequent two-year cycles, will not impact the agreed Board seat allocation explained in Section A regardless of contribution amount until the date of the next reshuffle. However, new Contributors who join by signing Contribution

⁶ For the initial sitting of the FIF’s Governing Board, signed pledge letters deposited to the Trustee per the agreed deadline were used as a proxy for signed Contribution Agreements. Any new or additional contributions will be reflected in a signed Contribution Agreement.

Agreements between September 2022 and April 2023, and in the midst of subsequent two-year cycles, would join any constituency to which they are invited, based on mutual agreement, or the constituency with the lowest aggregate dollar value, where they would remain until the reshuffle. At the reshuffle, the procedure described under para. 1 will be applied for all donors on the basis of the dollar value of their cumulative contributions.

C. Minimum threshold to join a voting constituency:

Until the first reshuffling of the board in May 2023, every Contributor who deposited pledges as of August 2022, would be able to join a voting constituency. From then onwards, the standard minimum contribution to join a Contributor constituency would be set at US$10 million and would grow over time as the quantum of funds in the FIF grows.

Small economy countries may join with a lower contribution which would be calculated as follows: the FIF's total quantum as at a specified date say, April 30 for the year multiplied by the sovereign Contributor's percentage share of global GDP (nominal) as calculated by the World Bank for the last complete year of data. This would be recalculated annually from the first set of calculated contributions, as of April 30, 2023.

D. Minimum threshold to join the FIF:

Further, the FIF's Governing Board, when it meets on September 8-9, 2022, will set a minimum threshold of US$1 million for any new Contributor to join the FIF partnership. Contributors who meet this minimum threshold but do not meet the relevant threshold for a voting constituency will be recognized as part of the FIF partnership but will not be reflected in the Board's voting structure.
