Role Model Video*

Through our Conservation Nation Academy, we offer free, ready-to-use classroom lessons that spotlight conservation champions from diverse cultural, racial, and ethnic backgrounds. These resources are designed to challenge stereotypes and inspire students with real-world stories of individuals solving today's biodiversity crisis.

As a grantee, you will serve as a role model for young conservationists across the globe. To help bring your story into classrooms, we ask that you submit a short, informal 30-second to 1-minute video sharing who you are and how you will support our education programming.

Your video* should include:

- A brief introduction to your work
- The biodiversity hotspot you operate in
- The species or ecosystem you focus on
- How you will serve as a role model for the next generation

Optional prompts to consider:

- Are you the first in your family or community to become a conservationist? What challenges have you faced?
- What excites you most about your work?
- Why are you passionate about conservation?
- What's the most unforgettable experience you've had in the field?
- Check out our Conservation Nation Academy website for inspiration.

Attachment Instructions:

- All video files must be named using the following format: LastName_FirstName_Species. The name used in the video title must exactly match the first and last name provided on this application form.

- File types allowed are .mp4 and .mov.
- Applications that do not follow the requirements and requested content noted above will be automatically disqualified.

Note: Videos will only be used for public content if you are selected as a grantee.*
